“ David was a great friend, brother, son, father and grandfather. His devotion to Marian was complete and all-encompassing. He was a presence in any room, and comfortable in himself and the riches of his life. While David came from a large family, he came to be part of another large family. He is a brother we will miss, and yet, even in our loss, we hold his family in our prayers.
Farewell, faithful provider,
Matthew
