“ To Miss Georgia's family, this will probably sound very odd, but I need to share something. I wouldn't have ever known her, had it not been for W-M, & only knew her name because of her name badge. I want you to know that when she first waited on me (& several times to follow) at W-M, many years ago, it bothered me that she had such a frown on her, never smiling, & only saying as little to me as possible, while leading me to a product or answering a question. It bothered me to the point that I thought, 'I'm determined to see if I can bring a smile to that lady's face'. I started greeting her with a big smile & a vibrant, "Hey, Miss Georgia! How are you today?", EVERY time I saw her in the store, even if I had to go out of my way, to be close enough to speak to her. The first time, she looked stunned, but did reply back to me. I smiled even more, on the inside. After that, when I would greet her in the same manner, she had the biggest smile on her face & looked genuinely happy to see me. It blessed me so much, to bring a smile to her & I hope I blessed her just a little. This will forever stick with me, as long as I have good mind, & it taught me to always try to remember that the smallest thing just MIGHT be all it takes to bring a little joy to someone else. <3 I'm so glad I got to meet Miss Georgia.
