“ Hey buddy,

I wanted you to know that our boyhood adventures have remained with me to this day. From swinging on grapevines like Tarzan to riding Rose bareback, to getting in trouble for cutting up on the schoolbus, eating too many green apples from that tree behind your house. Every moment with you was an adventure. I'll always cherish our 'swimming' expeditions in the creek and the mischief we'd get into playing in the old barn loft. Though I can't be there to say goodbye, my heart is with you and your family. The memories of our fun and friendship will live on with me in every grapevine, creek, apple tree, and old barn I see.

Rest easy, my friend. Until we meet again in greener pastures.
