“ Im sorry for the loss of the Taylor family y'all hearts are heavy he is in a better place I'm going to miss him dearly he was the best school bus driver to ever lived. My favorite memory of him was every time it would be a holiday he would bring candy and drinks and by the end of the school year he would let us have paper ball fights, but then again it was always a great time just sitting behide him and talk to him he would sometimes call me Donald duck. RIP Harold Taylor my buddy

Wanda, Kim and family..... HT taught me a lot in life. As a young man about hard work, patience and not to take yourself so seriously. As a middle aged guy to try to use whatever talent that you had to better yourself. Just recently as older fellows he and I agreed that if we would trust in Jesus that everything would work out in the end. I always looked forward to talking with him each Sunday at Concord. We are all gonna miss him. Godspeed Brother.
