I am so very sorry for your loss. I know that words can not touch the grief and loss your family is feeling, I wish I could have known him. Reading through the messages left here Jack had to be a wonderful young man. My heart goes out to you dear cousin and your family.

“ I am so terribly sorry this happened. We never know why these things have to happen to such good people, and a good person he was indeed. He was always so happy and bright. Always seen a smile on his face. I remember talking to him in 8th grade, telling him stories and jokes, then getting to see the hilarious facial expressions he gave me. They were priceless. Happy is the one way I'll always remember Jack. No matter what. I wish you all the comfort right now. Just know God has this.

“ I have known Jack since he was a toddler. He has always been a strong willed child, stubborn and set to do what he puts in his mind to do. As a Scout Master, I was proud when he chose our troop to be his home. Jack was always working hard to learn new things, advancing through the ranks, he actually advanced to the rank of Life Scout faster than any of my other scouts. It wouldn't be to long before he made Eagle Scout. He was a member of the Order of the Arrow and very active. He was very helpful in leading and working with the younger boys in the troop. The moment in time I am most proud of Jack was at this summer camp when he was struggling completing one of the activities in Cope Class, he was very nervous and stopped for a minute, we watched as he pushed on, finishing where others might have stopped and give up. I was very sad that I had to step down as Scout Master but happy that he was doing so well and was looking forward to him making it to Eagle Scout. Jack, I am proud of you, terribly sad that this happened, and I will miss you more than anyone will ever know. Rest in Peace and may you live on in all our hearts.

“ I have been thinking of what memory I wanted to share and I couldn't narrow it down We have millions of memories together that's alot but not nearly enough for me. From the moment we knew you were on the way we were together . The snowy day you were born I knew you were special. I saw you grow by leaps and bounds to try to catch up with JW I saw you follow him around trying to do what ever he was doing . I saw how much you wanted that khaki shirt. I saw you struggle with to fit in I saw you happy with your friends I saw you angry at people who litter I saw you angry about balloons that were launched and then landed on the ground and animals would eat. I saw you on your first back packing trip I saw you love scouts I saw you cross over in to Boy Scouts with that Khaki shirt you were so proud to wear I saw you go thru Ordeals I saw the happy dance when you came home from there with your sash just like JW 's I saw you head off for your big trip with JW I saw you when we picked you up. I saw you angry at the way things were I saw you change your mind I saw you enjoy being on the Ceremonies team to welcome new brothers I saw your face when you were telling me about the puppy you rescued I saw you this past week end being a great SPL I saw your face when you were talking on the phone These are just a few of the memories I have of you my darling baby boy I will miss you forever and always -mom
