“ James you came into our crazy family 7 years ago, you took care of my cousin and made her children your own. You was a loving husband and father. You gave love to everyone you meet. No words can express how much I will miss all the off the wall conversations we had. You will be missed by so many. Love ya cuz!

I met James Carl when he was 3. Then I married his uncle, and he was upset that I was taking his Beau away. Lol he grew to love me and was kind and even referred to me as aunt after our divorce

“ I worked with James and he would always come to me for repairs to his truck. he was a great man loving father and amazing husband . he would tell me stories of his kids and wife we would laugh for hours on in. I would make fun of him and he would give it right back. He was a true friend a pal I would ask for advice on life and he would talk me through my hard times. He will always be remembered rest easy Ross and keep us safe

“ I worked with him for the past two years. There was NEVER a dull conversation. He was witty, funny, clever, kind, and so generous. He was always positive when things were difficult and found a way to make you laugh in the most awkward circumstances. He lived a very colorful life and had such a way with words. He along with Skyler sacrificed their lives to save five strangers. They both died as heroes, and fine examples of good Christian men. Rest easy driver, your shift is over.
