“ Jimmy was the very first person to welcome us Yankees to the Mt. Carmel area. We were painting and doing some other things and Jimmy came driving up the driveway. He sure is a lively person. He spent many hours down with us and enjoyed yankee cooking. He had advice on just about everything that we needed at different times and knew the general area and told us what was where. He told us how to plant a garden and where to put it, saying there had been gardens in that area. We had many good times together and he loved my pizza, always asking when I was going to make pizza. He was and always will be a great memory and a great friend.
