

Jane Shannon

December 18, 1934 - September 14, 2013

Jane Ann Shannon (Hanenberger), age 78, formerly of Warrenville, Illinois, passed away peacefully at her home on Saturday, September 14, 2013 in Darden, TN., after a long and courageous battle with cancer. Jane was born in Eota, Minnesota to the late Oscar and Dorothy Hanenberger. She graduated from Eota-Dover High School, and married the late Duane S. Wondrow. They traveled extensively throughout the United States supporting her husband's career choice. In December of 1985, she married John Shannon and they settled in Darden, Tennessee to retire and enjoy their golden years. The highlight of her retirement was a cruise and land trip to Alaska that she spoke of often and was in awe of its unspoiled beauty. She was a loving mother, grandmother, and great grandmother. Jane was an accomplished piano player, loved entertaining family and friends, and always had an embroidery project or craft in the works. She was an active member of her church parish and never lost faith. She is survived by her husband, John Shannon; daughter-in-law, Carolyn Wondrow of Somers, Montana; daughters, Nelda Byers (Dave) of Warrenville, IL., Ruth Horak (Harry) of Boulder City, Nevada, Sandi Chavis (Mike) of Flemming Island, Florida; step sons, Todd Shannon of Loveland, CO. and Tim Shannon of Lexington, TN.; grandchildren, Ann Byrne (Trent), Mary Chaney (Chris), Ben Wondrow (Erin), Dave Byers, Steven Rose, Marti Rose, Anthony Roseland, and Jayden Lopez; and great grandchildren, Aidan and McKenna Byrne, and Rosalie Chaney. Those left behind have taken strength in the knowledge that the loved ones that went before her, including her son, Lester Wondrow, were in there in the end to lead her home. A memorial service will be held at St. Andrews Catholic Church on Saturday, September 28, 2013 at 12:00PM. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the H.O.P.E. Ministries of Lexington, TN., 169 Holly St., Lexington, TN.
