“ Dutch and Esta Lee were wonderful neighbors there on Brown Street back in the Fifties. Many times we "borrowed" their storm shelter. No more gracious people ever lived than those two. God bless them! ”

“ Uncle Dutch was a jolly soul. I love him and Aunt Esta Lee very much. I wish I would have had more time on this earth with him and hope that I see him on the other side:) he wa a tough cookie, smart and cool. I regret our lives weren't more in sync. My family moved form tennessee after my parents divorced and we really didn't get to see him much after that. my sis and I went to his house one christmas holiday and I'm trying to find that picture .

he was one cool dude and super kind. Aunt Esta Lee was a positive lady too and together they were a charismatic couple.

He did much with his life. I am proud to be his relative. May he rest in peace.

“ Sincere sympathy in the loss of Uncle "Dutch", we (nieces & nephews) often spent several weeks in the summer with Uncle Dutch and Aunt Esta Lee. They always went out of their way to keep us happy & occupied, taking us swimming, fishing, or anything else we wanted. I remember going to football games, auctions, skating, the fair, out to eat, movies etc. Sometimes we got to go to work with Aunt Esta Lee or Uncle Dutch, that was always interesting. Wherever, we were always happy and carefree. Later we were always invited to family reunions, Christmas gatherings and never fear there was always plenty of food and good times. There was always a Christmas present for every single person in the family and any guest that you took, even unexpected guest. (I never knew how they did that) (One time I took a boyfriend for Christmas dinner, no one had ever met & they had a gift for him, WOW) This is what a family is all about, many people today have no idea of this concept. Love one another because life is short. No matter what was going on during the week, Sunday came around and it was time for church. I will always love and respect them for the example they set for all of us to live by: and I am thankful to have been raised by a christian family. Shelia Campbell & Family
