

Margaret Berryman Fly

December 4, 1928 - January 11, 2014

Margaret Berryman Fly, age 76, passed away on Saturday, January 11, 2014 in Lexington, TN. Margaret was one of three children born December 4, 1938 to the late John Everett Adams and Raymelle Douglass Adams. She lived most of her years in Lexington, TN. Lovingly referred to and remembered by many as “Moochie” though her youth she married James Berryman Sr. Their 19 year union produced two children, James E. Berryman Jr. and wife Joy Berryman of Greenbrier, TN. and Dian Berryman McGuire and husband Steve McGuire of Lexington, TN. Margaret leaves one granddaughter, Nanette Buchanan and husband Chuck Buchanan of Murfreesboro, TN. and two grandsons, James “Adam” Berryman and wife Courtney of Murfreesboro, TN. and William Mitchell McGuire of Lexington. She has four great grandchildren, Tessa, Nicole, and Justin Buchanan, and Peyton Dean, all of Murfreesboro, TN. Margaret is survived by her sister, Evelyn Robinson of Parkers Crossroads and a brother, Dick Adams of Holladay, TN. Being a strong advocate of family she remained close to her nieces Terry Gilliam and Kelly Gilliam, both of Lexington. Margaret attended West KY Community College where she studied accounting and worked for several local businesses as a bookkeeper. Later in life, she and the late John Fly married and started Big K Pharmacy which became Wal Mart Pharmacy in Lexington, TN. She was a former member of the Beaver-Wildersville Ruritan Club and a member of Pine Grove Baptist Church. She was an avid sports enthusiast and excellent marksman in her younger years. She enjoyed fishing and duck hunting. She had a knack for growing many beautiful plants and flowers and could tame even the wildest of animals. She will be sadly missed by her devoted family and loving caregivers. Graveside services will be on Sunday, January 12 at 2:30PM at Jones Cemetery with Bro. Miles Roberts officiating. Visitation will be on Saturday from 5PM-9PM and on Sunday from 12:30PM till service.
