“ It is best said that in times of need you were always a true friend. You were there when most folks wasn't or would not be. You were one of the Lord's true angels to live upon earth and take care of those you loved. There were so many times you made our lives alot better and a little more exciting. So many stories and funny little tales and always up for a new adventure. Growing up around you I new you were a hard working adult. But deep down inside you were the biggest kid of all of us nieces and nephews. I know down here you will be deeply missed and was deeply loved. But I know now it was just your time to go home and it's hard for us down here to understand. But if we could see heaven like your seeing it now we would not come back either....I could just imagine you and granny waving and saying we wish you were here. But for now it's all I can do but I know one day We will meet again. Until then aunt nellie know we love and miss you.
