“Pauline was my great aunt by marriage. As a child I remember going to John L and Pauline's house on Spottswood Avenue in Memphis to visit with them on Sunday afternoons. We were always met at the door with big smiles, offered a cold coca cola in the little green bottle, and a candy bowl full of chocolates! As we were leaving it was a trip to the back yard to see the Beagles! Pauline would never admit it but she loved those dogs as much or more than John L. Pauline was very dedicated to the Eastern Star and attended regularly. Pauline never had any children of her own per say but she practically raised several children belonging to other family and friends. Throughout the last 9 to 12 years, I had the opportunity to be close by them, taking them to Doctor appointments, buying groceries and helping to put up Christmas lights and do a little yard work. There were some very difficult times through John's illness and death but through it all Pauline stayed strong. Even at her age, she worked in her yard trimming bushes and keeping her flower beds looking beautiful. She fell and broke her wrist then subsequently had a hip repair surgery all within the last year but her memory stayed sharp and she was always curious about what was going outside her room. We enjoyed our trips to Target, long talks, trips to Lexington, and had lots of laughs. I am thankful for Tommy and Marsha Reeves and I know Pauline was very appreciative of all the ways they were there for her. We all will miss her. God bless you Pauline.”
