“ So sorry for your loss!! Rhonda & me use to have so much fun seems like we were constantly laughing. I loved her laugh. She'd make you laugh hearing her laugh & you wouldn't even know what was funny. She always said we were ex wife-in-laws lol.. I know she will be missed she was a good person with a good heart I know God has her in His arms

“ When she was living on Stanford St by 1st Baptist Church in the midnineties she was flipping out over something. Holly calmly ask her, "Mom did you forget your Prozac?" Rhonda was quiet for a minute then replied, "Damn I did. I'll be fine in an hour." She then walked off to take her meds. Even though her crazy slipped out from time to time she was always fast to love whoever Holly or Wendy drug home and made us immediately feel like family. I'm so sorry you guys for her loss.
