“ I’m going to truly miss seeing him In the hall and coming to me first thing in the morning when I work on the hall to have conversations about life and working. I will always miss everytime I worked on different halls and would walk through and he always said “Hi Elise. When are you going to work on my hall”. We may have bumped heads occasionally but I will be forever thankful for the conversations we always had! Rest easy my dear friend!

“ Stanley so going to miss our conversations about life! I feel so priviledged to have the opportunity to have been your nurse! We occasionally bumped heads but it never changed our friendship. You rest in peace and pain free. Thank you for all the times you told me I was your favorite nurse. I will truly miss you!
